Abstract

Purpose – This research paper is to examine the components that affect brand trust and how brand trust affects brand loyalty and in this paper I will check key variables such as customer satisfaction, relative price, perceive quality and brand experience that will be affected on brand trust and helps FMCG industry to work on these variables if want to build brand trust and loyalty in Pakistan.

Design/Methodology/Approach – To check the variables that affect the brand trust more in FMCG industry in Pakistan, survey will conducted through questionnaires by convenience sampling in Karachi. Sample size consists of 300, regression and correlation will be conducted to test the hypothesis.

Findings – The results presented that the customer satisfaction, brand experience, relative price and perceive quality have a significant positive relationship on brand trust and so brand trust has a good significant impact on brand loyalty.

Limitation – This study conducted only in Karachi, Pakistan from 300 respondents, so generalizing these result would not be sufficient for all over Pakistan.

Originality Value – This study would help the marketing professionals to understand how people in Karachi, Pakistan figure brand trust and how they retain their existing customers and attract new customers for a longer period of time.

Keywords – Brand Trust, Brand Loyalty, Customer Satisfaction, Relative Price, Perceived Quality, Brand Experience

Paper Category – Research Paper
