The report in hand is not a hard copy of activities during the working of the final year project, rather it is a container of many soft feelings of gratitude, responsibility and affection that were having during the final year.

It was a wonderful learning experience for me while making this report. There are several challenges I faced when I was working on this report. During the completion of this research I learnt so many things that will help me not only in my professional career but also to lead my life in the best manner.

For this favor, all acclamation to ALLAH, WHO has empowered and enabled me to accomplish the research project successfully and helps in every problem during the project.

I am also thankful to Institute “BAHRIA UNIVERSITY KARACHI CAMPUS”, and all my respected Teachers who are institutes themselves, especially Sir S.M Ahsan Rizvi, for his engaging support and supervision during research process, He pushed me to do more than the best. I am very thankful to him that he allowed us to do this research under his knowledge, experience and guidance

ABSTRACT

Purpose: The current study aims to explore the role of Just in Time (JIT) purchasing and operations in increasing operational performance.

Methodology & Design: The present study incorporates a quantitative research method. The data was collected from primary and secondary sources using convenience sampling and previous research.

Findings: Findings showed a significant positive impact of JIT practices on operational performance.

Limitations: The essential constraint of the present study is that it uses information from only one city. Moreover, the present study incorporated a single method in the current study.

Recommendations: It is recommended to implement just-in-time practices within the firms must be expanded as the expansion in the execution of JIT practices results in diminished inventory, right expense, consumer gratification, and eradication of waste which prompts full utilization of operational performance.

Keywords

JIT practices, operational performance, JIT purchasing, JIT operation.
